

THE CARE IT NEEDS

Modern vehicle electronics mean that your battery now has to work harder than ever before – not just when starting - but to maintain vital systems even when the engine is off.

That's why your battery needs extra care.

The CTEK Multi XS3600 is a new generation charger that will condition, charge and maintain all types of lead-acid battery. Simple to use, completely safe and with no need to disconnect the battery from the vehicle you can charge quickly and with total confidence. The unique conditioning and pulse maintenance features of the CTEK Multi XS3600 ensure that not only is your battery always fully charged but that it is cared for too – maximising its performance and extending its life.
